US: Brent jumps above $75, stock markets retreat

Brent North Sea crude hit a near six-month high above $75 per barrel on Thursday on supply concerns that have been worsened by the US tightening the screw on sanctions-hit Iran. Stock markets meanwhile mostly dropped, with traders across Europe digesting mixed company earnings updates and news of the collapse of two mega-mergers in the supermarket and banking industries. "Brent crude oil has rallied above $75 per barrel for the first time this year on the back of tighter sanctions on Iran, while gains in West Texas Intermediate WTI have been curtailed by a surge in US supply," noted Dean Popplewell, markets analyst at Oanda trading group. Brent for delivery in June jumped to $75.60 per barrel, the highest level since the end of October. WTI reached $66.28 per barrel, heading towards a six-month peak. The US removal this week of waivers that allowed countries to buy from sanctions-hit Iran is expected to hit oil supplies, though analysts are keeping watch on the region and whether the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (Opec) responds by opening up the taps. CAMBODIA: Central bank issues financial stability review

The National Bank of Cambodia (NBC) launched its Financial Stability Review (FSR), a report that aims to provide reliable financial data to the public to help mitigate risks. Speaking at the launch, Neav Chanthana, NBC vice governor, said the FSR is a valuable document that helps the public and investors better understand the financial sector. "It informs policy decisions in the public and private realms. It is particularly helpful for investors, financial institutions and relevant stakeholders, guiding decisions on investment, business expansion and helping mitigate any potential risks," she said. The report assesses the potential and likelihood of risks to financial stability, including macroeconomic and systemic risks. It addresses macro-financial linkage issues and discussions on potential policies to help mitigate systemic risks. Young Sarah Zhou, IMF resident representative to Cambodia, said the launch of the document is a significant milestone in the development of the industry. "Cambodia's financial sector has been growing

CAMBODIA: Chinese experts to conduct study on ports

A group of Chinese experts is now in Cambodia to conduct a study on port development that will aid the drafting of a master plan, according to the Ministry of Transportation. The group, who comes from one of the biggest ports in the world, Shenzhen's China Merchants Port, is led by Jiang Luning, director of overseas business at the Chinese port. Mr Jiang met with the Cambodian Minister of Transport, Sun Chanthol, who last month travelled to China as part of a fact-finding mission. The Cambodian minister said the study will focus on the autonomous ports in Sihanoukville and Phnom Penh, as well as maritime inland waterways that connect to the Mekong River. He said the study will support the drafting of a master plan for port development in the Kingdom. The study will take three months to complete, he added. Nhem Savong, deputy director general of the general department of waterway and maritime transport, told Khmer Times that the master plan was of great importance for the country's economic development. CAMBODIA: Cambodia-Thailand rail reconnected after 45 years

A railway reconnecting Cambodia and Thailand was officially inaugurated on Monday following a 45-year hiatus, with the two kingdoms' prime ministers in attendance at the ceremony. On the occasion, Cambodian Prime Minister Hun Sen and Thai Prime Minister Prayut Chan-o-cha travelled together from Thailand's Khlong Luek Railway Station to Poipet Station in Banteay Meanchey province. The connecting 386km Phnom Penh-Poipet railway line had been previously fully restored by the Cambodian government, with the expectation that it will play an important role for shipping goods between the two countries. Cambodia is further expected to receive 140km of used track from Thailand after Bangkok gave the green light to a request made by the Kingdom, Hun Sen said during a speech on Monday. The speech was made at the groundbreaking ceremony for the Stung Bot International Checkpoint and a newly built road connecting it to National Road 5. The event also included a ceremony to sign a joint operation agreement on cross-border rail transport, as well as hand over a diesel multiple-unit locomotive and four passenger carriages to Cambodia. CAMBODIA: NBC seeks to promote financial literacy

A National Bank of Cambodia (NBC) official on Tuesday said it is seeking to promote financial literacy among Cambodians, saying that boosting awareness of financial issues has become a greater priority as the industry continues to develop and become more complex. Speaking to reporters during the National Financial Literacy Day on Tuesday, NBC director-general Chea Serey said NBC realises work to boost financial literacy is a long-term agenda and is strongly pushing the Kingdom's financial institutions to participate in accelerating Cambodians' financial awareness. She said there are currently around 10 financial institutions actively involved with NBC's mission, while others have expressed their willingness to participate. "Boosting financial literacy requires a long effort and cannot be done in merely one year, so we will keep working on it. It would be a big success for us if we are able to insert financial subjects into the general education programme," she said. "It is a long term and sustainable approach to promote financial literacy and we hope the financial knowledge of the people will improve from year to year". (Phnom Penh Post)

CAMBODIA: Cambodia launches its first technology startup report

Cambodia's digital startup ecosystem is vibrant and dynamic, with strong opportunities as well as entrepreneurial culture, according to a report by Mekong Strategic Partners and Raintree. The report, endorsed by the Board of Capacity Building and R&D (CBRD) Fund, was officially launched under the witness of Aun Pornmoniroth, the Deputy Prime Minister, at Digital Cambodia in March. The public and tech community were given a preview of the key highlights of this report in October last year during the Cambodia Tech Summit in Phnom Penh. "The Ministry of Posts and Telecommunications are in the process of formulating a policy which will help spur innovation, promote tech startup and MSME sectors as well as provide opportunity for Cambodia youth, in line with the Royal Government's Rectangular Strategy IV to diversify the
