JAPAN : Bitcoin drops below $6,000 amid crackdown

Bitcoin plunged more than 20% to fall below $6,000, its latest sharp loss following a series of setbacks, with a global stock market collapse fuelling the selling. The virtual currency fell to $5,992 for the first time since mid-November, according to Bloomberg News, the latest hammering for the cryptocurrency that saw a stratospheric 26-fold rise last year. Yesterday's collapse comes just six weeks after bitcoin hit a record high of $19,511, fuelled by a flood of speculators looking to make a quick buck. Since those heady days the cryptomarket which includes dozens of other units – has been pounded by news of crackdowns by governments including in China, Russia and South Korea, one of the biggest markets for the sector. On Thursday, India said it would “take all measures to eliminate” cryptocurrencies’ use as part of a payment system and in funding illegitimate activities, while Japanese authorities raided a virtual currency exchange after it lost $530 million to hackers. CAMBODIA : New rail link with Vietnam on the cards

Plans for a railway line connecting Bavet city in Svay Rieng province to Vietnam's Ho Chi Minh city were revealed this week by the Minister of Transport. During a meeting with Nguyen Nhat, Vietnam's Deputy Minister of Transport, Cambodian Transport Minister Sun Chanthol said both governments are considering the creation of a rail link between both nations, and said they are cooperating to attract private sector investment into the project. The Bavet-Ho Chi Minh city project replaces a previous railway project that was to connect Kampong Speu's Bat Deng commune with Luc Ning in Vietnam, according to Ly Borin, under-secretary of state at the Ministry of Transport. The Bat Deng-Luc Ning railway project was part of a region-wide railway plan to connect Singapore to China's Yunnan province via Malaysia, Thailand, Cambodia and Vietnam. “The Bat Deng-Luc Ning railway was given careful consideration, but we arrived to the conclusion that it was too expensive. “As such, we settled on a new line which is shorter than the previous planned railway," Mr Borin said, adding that the Bavet-Ho Chi Minh city railway will be around 250 kilometres long, while the discarded project was planned to cover 300 kilometres. (Phnom Penh Post)

CAMBODIA : Indonesia-Cambodia trade grows to $492M

Bilateral trade between Cambodia and Indonesia amounted to $492.7 million in the first 11 months of last year, a 23% increase compared to the same period in 2016, according to a report from an Indonesian state-run news agency. Indonesian Antara reported the growth in bilateral trade on Saturday, noting that Indonesia had invested primarily in the fields of culinary arts, housing, transportation and infrastructure improvements in Cambodia. The news came at the end of a three-day visit by Cambodian Minister of Foreign Affairs Prak Sokhonn, who left Indonesia on Saturday. (Phnom Penh Post)

CAMBODIA : Cambodia-Vietnam trade up 30 percent in 2017

Bilateral trade between Cambodia and Vietnam last year increased nearly 30% to about $3.8 billion according to Vietnamese state-run media, while Cambodia has yet to report trade statistics for most of 2017. Exports to Cambodia rose by about 26% while imports from Cambodia grew by more than 40%, according to the reports. That would be an increase over the recent past trade volume had decreased for the past two years, down from $3.3 billion in 2014 to $3 billion in 2015 and $2.8 billion in 2016, according to the same Vietnamese media reports. But there are conflicting datasets regarding the total amount of trade between Cambodia and Vietnam. Other Vietnamese state-run media had reported the 2016 trade figure to be closer to $3 billion. Data from the United Nation's International Trade Statistics Database shows that Cambodia reported only $1.6 billion in total trade with Vietnam in 2016, while Vietnam reported $2.9 billion over the same period. Cambodian trade data for most of 2017 was not yet available according to Seang Thay, a spokesperson at Cambodia's Ministry of Commerce. (Phnom Penh Post)

CAMBODIA : Deal for yuan trade with China in works

Officials in Cambodia and China's Guangdong province are cooperating to establish trade using yuan instead of US dollars, part of the two countries' increasingly close economic relationship. The suggestion to use yuan directly, instead of using US dollars as an intermediary currency, was made by deputy-director of Guangdong province Ouyang Weimin during a visit to the province by Cambodian Minister of Commerce Pan Sorasak on Friday. Seang Thay, a spokesman at the Ministry of Commerce, said yesterday that as trade between the two countries continued to grow, Chinese currency should also increasingly be used in bilateral trade. "The fluctuation of exchange rate is risky for businesses, because sometimes the US dollar could be appreciate or depreciate compare with the Chinese yuan," he said. "We are trading with China more and more, so accepting Chinese yuan for trade deals is also good for businesses." While the two countries appear in-sync on promoting trade in yuan, there is not yet an official agreement to establish such a system in Guangdong, according to Thay. (Phnom Penh Post)

SINGAPORE : China's COMAC to deliver first plane in 2021

China's state-owned plane-maker said that it expects to deliver its first home-grown passenger jet to a customer in 2021 as the world's second largest economy seeks to challenge the dominance of Boeing and Airbus. The Commercial Aircraft Corporation of China (COMAC) plans to first target the Chinese market, before moving on to Southeast Asia and Africa, said Lu Zheng, deputy general manager of sales and marketing. The C919, a COMAC-built 168-seater passenger plane, will likely be cheaper than equivalent models by its closest competitors, Mr. Lu told reporters on the sidelines of the Singapore Airshow. The company is hopeful that it will obtain Chinese airworthiness certification for the plane in three to four years. "We hope to hand over the first C919 to China Eastern Airlines in 2021 and we will work hard for it," Mr. Lu said. "Our main audience is the China market, but we are exploring opportunities overseas," he added. (AFP)

CHINA : China conglomerates aim for a reset in tighter credit environment

More than a year ago, China abruptly shifted from a policy of providing its private conglomerates with cheap cash to push them to become global champions, and tightened capital controls and bank credit. That seismic shift is still being felt today, as the non-state companies dump property and company stakes, and grapple with developing coherent strategies. On Monday, Dalian Wanda Group announced it would sell a $1.24 billion stake in Wanda Film Holdings Co to Alibaba Group Holding Ltd and Cultural Investment Holdings Ltd, a Beijing government-backed company. That followed Wanda's announcement last week that it was shifting a $5.4 billion stake in its property unit to outside investors, led by Tencent Holdings. For HNA Group, the aviation company that has extended its reach into logistics, tourism and financial services after splashing out $50 billion on dealmaking, the process of deleveraging has just started. (Reuters)
