CAMBODIA : More than $130 million raised at local bourse

The capital raised at the Cambodia Securities Exchange (CSX), the local stock market, since it was launched in 2012 has surpassed $130 million, according to a CSX official. The bourse now has five listed companies Phnom Penh Water Supply Authority, Grand Twins International (Cambodia) Plc, Sihanoukville Autonomous Port, Phnom Penh SEZ Plc, and Phnom Penh Autonomous Port plus two firms that have issued bonds Hattha Kaksekar Limited and LOLC. Hong Sok Hour, CSX CEO, told Khmer Times that the five publicly traded companies have mobilized about $80million, while bond issuers Hatta Kaksekar Limited and LOLC have managed to raise $50 million. "This shows the potential of the local bourse for companies seeking funds to expand their operations," said Mr Sok Hour. "CSX helps these companies earn trust and recognition from the public and investors." He noted that listed companies are also rewarded with attractive tax incentives, including a 50% deduction of the income tax. Mr Sok Hour said several companies have recently shown interest in joining CSX, including some that have already submitted the necessary documentation to the Securities and Exchange Commission of Cambodia, the sector's regulator. BUSINESS & ECONOMIC NEWS

CAMBODIA : Direct flights from China to Sihanoukville surge

Chinese owned airline companies are expanding their services by opening new air routes from several provinces in China to Sihanoukville where there is a surge in investments, mostly by Chinese owned entities. Hainan Airline had earlier this week launched its three times a week service from Haikou, the capital of Hainan province to Sihanoukville, using a Boeing 737-800. The flights are on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, a Bangkok-based news online outlet reported on Friday. Lanmei Airline based in Phnom Penh, also launched its three flights a week service from Sihanoukville to Fuzhou, the capital of Fujian province on 3rd of July, while a three times a week service to Jinghong in Yunnan province is slated to begin on 2 August. In addition, a weekly flight from Sihanoukville to Taiyuan, the capital of Shanxi province and a four times a week flight serving Wuhan, the capital of Hubei province began on 15 July. In late June, the airline had launched direct flights from Siem Reap to Datong in Shanxi province, with a flight every Friday. There are 181 flights per week connecting Cambodia and China, according to the Ministry of Tourism and the new flights will further boost the influx of tourists from China, already Cambodia's biggest tourism market. (Khmer Time)

CAMBODIA : Cambodia, Singapore discuss trade

Singapore is considering increasing imports of Cambodian agricultural products, according to the Ministry of Commerce. During an official visit to Singapore on Tuesday, Commerce Minister Pan Sorasak met with Chan Chun Sing, Singapore's Minister of Trade and Industry. According to a post on the Ministry of Commerce's Facebook page yesterday, the two officials discussed boosting bilateral trade, particularly by increasing the number of agricultural goods that Singapore buys from Cambodia. "Cambodia could export a lot of products to Singapore but currently it exports only a small amount," Mr Chun Sing was quoted as saying in the post. Mr Chun Sing said that by strengthening cooperation on trade between the two countries, Singapore could increase its purchases of vegetables, fruits, fish, seafood and meat. Mr Sorasak told Mr Chun Sing about several Cambodian products that could find a market in Singapore, including Kampot pepper, Kampong Speu palm sugar, Koh Trong pomelo, mango, and milled rice. The Cambodian minister noted that enhancing trade cooperation with Singapore is in line with the Asean policy of boosting regional trade. Singapore is one of Cambodia's top five trading partners. In 2017, bilateral trade was valued at $3 billion. (Khmer Time)

CAMBODIA : Contract farming deals inked to boost rice exports

Twelve agricultural communities in Preah Vihear province on Wednesday entered into contract farming schemes with major rice exporter Signatures of Asia. The agricultural communities will sell a combined 2,000 tonnes of organic rice to Signatures of Asia at set prices, guaranteeing a certain level of income to the farmers. Contract farming is hailed by public officials as an effective tool to lift farmer's livelihoods and develop the agricultural sector. Chan Pich, general manager of Signature of Asia, said selling organic rice is a sustainable business and establishing contract farming schemes benefits farmers. "Demand for organic rice continues to increase, fetching 25 to 30% more than regular rice," Mr Pich said. "What's important is that organic rice is grown following the standards required by the importing countries," he said. "The market for organic rice is much more stable than that of regular rice, whose price fluctuates a lot." He said contract farming schemes usually involve farmers, exporters, buyers and the companies that process the commodity. Poeng Trida, director of Preah Vihear's agriculture department, welcomed the agreements. (Khmer Time)

CAMBODIA : Cambodia, Russia strengthen cooperation

Cambodia and Russia agreed to bring their economic partnership to a new level by signing a memorandum of understanding to cooperate in the areas of fisheries and aquaculture. According to the official website of the Global Fishery Forum, the agreement signing ceremony was held last week at the sidelines of the Global Fishery Forum & Seafood Expo 2019 held in St. Petersburg, Russia. Cambodia was among the nearly 20 countries that participated in the event. Ilya Shestakov, Russia's Deputy Minister of Agriculture and head of the Federal Agency for Fisheries, signed the agreement on behalf of Russia. Cambodia was represented by Eng Chea San, director-general for the Fisheries Administration. Calling Cambodia a "long-standing and reliable partner", Mr Shestakov said the signing set a new stage for cooperation between the Kingdom and Russia. For his part, Mr Chea San said he was glad to be part of the big fishery event and conveyed the Cambodian government's intention and willingness to strengthen its partnership with its Russian counterpart in these sectors. (Khmer Time)

SINGAPORE : Singapore exports plunge 17.3% for largest drop in six years

Singapore's exports fell by double digits for the fourth straight month, with shipments in the key electronics sector sinking by nearly a third. Non-oil domestic exports (Nodx) performed worse than expected, slumping 17.3% in June compared to a year ago, following a downwardly revised 16.3% fall in May, said Enterprise Singapore on Wednesday. This is the biggest year-on-year drop since shipments sank 33.2% in February 2013. It is also sharply below analysts' expectations of a 9.6% drop, according to a consensus of forecasts in a Bloomberg poll. CIMB Private Banking economist Song Seng Wun noted it was last week's flash figures for Singapore's second-quarter growth which came in almost flat at 0.1% which signalled that both trade and manufacturing numbers were going to be markedly worse than expected in June. DBS senior economist Irvin Seah said: "It's that familiar sinking feeling again." "The recent set of bad data has dashed any hope of a recovery in the second half of this year," he said, adding that typically, figures stabilise by the middle of the year. (The Straits Times)

SOUTH KOREA : Bank of Korea cuts interest rate as Japan trade row simmers

South Korea's central bank on Thursday cut its key interest rate for the first time in three years as the economy struggles with sluggish global growth and with the country embroiled in a trade spat with Japan. The Bank of Korea (BoK) lowered its key rate to 1.5% from 1.75%, citing slowing exports and "increased" volatility in domestic financial markets. It joins a growing number of central banks worldwide that reduced borrowing costs to shore up their economies in the face of a prolonged trade dispute between China and the US. At the same time long-standing tensions between South Korea and Japan over the use of forced labour during World War II have bubbled over into a trade row that experts warn could hammer the global tech market. Japan has restricted exports of three chemicals crucial to South Korea's tech sector and used by major firms including Samsung Electronics and SK hynix in the manufacture of microchips and smartphones. Given the volume of trade between the two neighbours, if the restrictions are sustained or expanded it would have "no small impact on our economy", BoK chief Lee Ju-yeol told reporters. "It wouldn't be ideal for export restrictions to worsen," he said. "More efforts are needed to resolve the issue to prevent that from happening". (AFP)
