CAMBODIA : Regulator teams up with HK firm to boost bourse

The Securities Exchange Commission of Cambodia (SECC) and Hong Kong-based Eastern United Capital Holdings this week agreed to cooperate to develop the local stock market. According to a memorandum of understanding signed on Wednesday, Eastern United will help the local bourse's regulator build its human capital. "This cooperation aims to raise awareness among SECC officials as well as attract more interest from local and foreign investors with the help of an experienced team from Hong Kong," SECC deputy director general Sok Dara told Khmer Times yesterday. "With their many years of experience in the capital market, they can help us create new products and make the Cambodia Securities Exchange more attractive to investors." Kim Sophanita, director of CSX's market operations department, said the MoU is a sign that SECC is working hard to develop the capital market in Cambodia. "Capacity building is very crucial for developing the market. We want to have more collaborations like this and we highly appreciate SECC's efforts bringing in local and international collaborators. CAMBODIA : Ministry announces financial stability committee

The Cambodian government will establish a committee to ensure the stability of the Cambodian financial system and protect it against internal and external shocks, the Ministry of Economy and Finance said this week in a press release. The National Committee for Cambodian Financial Stability will play a critical role in managing financial crises in a timely and efficient manner, the ministry said. The committee will limit the effects of shocks to the system and stop them from spreading. The ministry added that creating such mechanisms is now the norm around the globe. "With the local financial sector ever more developed, diversified and integrated, each financial subsector is now interconnected, which requires a mechanism like this to respond to systematic risks," it said. Chea Chantho, governor of the National Bank of Cambodia (NBC), said in the 2018 annual supervision report that strong growth in services and means of payments requires a mechanism to control technological risks and protect the safety of consumers and the whole banking system. He said that information on companies' credit status is now available through the Credit Bureau of Cambodia, a service that will improve credit quality in the country. (Khmer Time)

CAMBODIA : Chinese companies to build 400 MW power plant

Electricite Du Cambodge yesterday signed an agreement with two Chinese firms to build a power facility fueled by heavy fuel oil and liquefied natural gas that will be able to generate 400 megawatts. The facility, which will be composed of two main plants, will be built in Kandal province’s Lvea Em district. The agreement signing ceremony was attended by the ambassadors of China, Germany, and Finland. Chinese firms CGGC-UN Power Co., Ltd and China National Heavy Machinery Corporation (CHMC) will build the power plants under an engineering, procurement and construction contract. No exact date has been given as to when construction will begin, but EDC representatives have said the facility will be ready within ten months. The project is composed of two plants. One will be powered by a 200 MW generator from Finnish firm Wartsila. This plant will be built by CGGC. The second plant will use another 200 MW generator, this time from Germany’s Man Group, and will be built by CHMC. (Khmer Time)

CAMBODIA : Cambodia, France trade up 9% last year

Trade between Cambodia and France grew by more than 9% last year, exceeding $1.2 billion in value and making France the Kingdom’s third largest export market in the European Union. According to a recent report from the Ministry of Commerce, bilateral trade rose by 9.2% year-on-year in 2018, with Cambodia’s exports to France worth more than $1.1 billion. France’s exports to Cambodia were valued at $111, the report shows. “France is the third largest importer of Cambodian goods in the EU and therefore it is a very important market,” said ministry spokesman Long Kemvichet. Mr Kemvichet told Khmer Times that Cambodia’s main exports to France are garments and footwear, and rice. Cambodia mostly imports medicines, wine and spirits, and machinery from France. “The government is now looking to lure more French investors into the services and manufacturing sectors. Our hospitality, tourism, manufacturing, and financial services, among many others, are all very attractive sectors for French investors,” he added. Speaking at a regional Asean Forum in Phnom Penh last week, Minister of Commerce Pan Sorasak said trade between Cambodia and France continues to increase every year as a result of the governments’ good relation. CAMBODIA : France holds its first Asean Forum in Phnom Penh

French foreign trade advisers held the European nation’s first Asean Forum in Phnom Penh last week to exchange views on the political and economic evolution in the region as well as France’s strategy in Asean, a French Embassy press release said. The two-day event, which was held on June 6 and 7, was attended by more than 180 people, including CEOs and businesspeople based in one or several Asean countries, or who were interested in the region. Some of the topics discussed at the event were business opportunities for French companies, strategies, current issues and future prospects. The French ambassadors to the 10 Asean countries and representatives from the French Ministry of Europe and Foreign Affairs, as well as the Ministry for the Economy and Finance, attended the event. During the event, Thierry Mathou, director for Asia & Oceania at the Ministry of Europe and Foreign Affairs, who has visited Cambodia twice since 2017, met with Cambodian Minister of Foreign Affairs and International Cooperation Prak Sokhonn to discuss bilateral relations between France and Cambodia. CHINA : China exports grow despite US tariffs, but imports slump

China’s exports unexpectedly returned to growth in May despite higher US tariffs, but imports fell the most in nearly three years in a further sign of weak domestic demand that could prompt Beijing to step up stimulus measures. Some analysts suspected Chinese exporters may have rushed out shipments to the United States to avoid new tariffs on $300 billion of goods that President Donald Trump is threatening to impose in a rapidly escalating trade dispute. But Monday’s better-than-expected export data is unlikely to ease fears that a longer and costlier US-China trade war may no longer be avoidable, pushing the global economy towards recession. China’s May exports rose 1.1% from a year earlier, compared with market expectations for a modest decline, customs data showed. “We expect export growth to remain positive in June, likely supported by continued front-loading of US-bound exports, but it should then tumble in the third quarter, when we expect the threatened tariffs to be imposed,” economists at Nomura said in a note to clients. “Therefore, we believe Beijing will likely step up its stimulus measures to stabilise financial markets and growth”. (Reuters)

JAPAN : Japan Q1 growth revised up to 0.6%

Japan’s economy grew slightly faster than initially thought in the first quarter of this year, due partly to better-than-expected corporate investment, official figures showed. The world’s third-biggest economy grew 0.6% quarter-on-quarter, up from the preliminary figure of 0.5%, the cabinet office said. The latest data was being closely watched amid speculation Prime Minister Shinzo Abe’s government could postpone a planned sales tax hike for the third time if the data was very weak. A report on Sunday however said Mr Abe’s government is now expected to hike the tax to 10% from eight percent in October, as scheduled, with the ruling party expecting a landslide victory in an upper house election planned next month. It was the second successive expansion for the Japanese economy after growth of 0.5% in the fourth quarter of last year and defied gloomy expectations by analysts who predicted a small decline at the start of 2019. As in the preliminary data, net exports contributed strongly to the latest growth figures but only because the fall in imports outweighed a decline in exports, the cabinet office said. (AFP)
